Alissa Czisny Joins Ranks of Former ISI Skaters Who Rose to the Top

Congratulations to Alissa Czisny, the most recent U.S. National Champion who got her start in the ISI recreational ice skating program.

Dorothy Hamill was the first former ISI skater to advance to the national championship title, which she held from 1974 through 1976. She went on to take gold at the 1976 Winter Olympics in Innsbruck, Austria and again at that year's World Figure Skating Championships.

Since then, many ISI skaters have reached the elite competitive ranks, including:

- Kristi Yamaguchi, 1992 Olympic champion
- · Michelle Kwan, two-time Olympic medalist and most decorated figure skater in U.S. history
- · Sarah Hughes, 2002 Olympic champion
- Sasha Cohen, 2006 Olympic silver medalist
- Emily Hughes, 2006 Olympian

ON THE COVER

- Evan Lysacek, 2010 Olympic champion
- Rachael Flatt, 2010 Olympian
- Mirai Nagasu, 2010 Olympian

Most of these skating champions have been featured in ISIA Education Foundation Benefit on Ice shows at the annual ISI World Recreational Team Championships. This year's guest skater will be announced soon.

The Ice Skating Institute is proud of its long and successful track record of providing a recreational ice skating program for skaters of all skill levels and aspirations. Everyone can be a champion in the ISI program!

Skate-A-Thon Raises $1,500 for Juvenile Diabetes Research

The Glenview Blades, an ISI synchronized skating team in Glenview, III., raised $1,500 for the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation with its annual Skate-A-Thon.

Each year the team designates a portion of its fundraising efforts to a charity chosen by the skaters. Team member Alyssa Manno, who is herself diabetic, presented the check, saying: "The Skate-A-Thon provides a great opportunity for families, friends and neighbors to support the Blades, an organization that teaches us many wonderful values, including sportsmanship, teamwork and the value of hard work. In addition, every year at least 10 percent of proceeds go to a deserving charity. This year we selected the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation, which is driven by a single mission: to find a cure for diabetes and its complications through the support of research. JDRF is also committed to developing new and better treatments that improve the lives of people with diabetes in the near term and keep them healthy while they advance toward a cure."

TBSA Countryside Skaters Featured in Busch Gardens Holiday Show

Allie White (left), age 7, FS 3, and Nicole Tutak, age 8, FS 4, were featured in the Christmas on Ice Show at Busch Gardens in Tampa, Fla. The two skaters, both from Tampa Bay Skating Academy-Countryside, shared the role of the little girl in the professional production, and each performed in more than 50 shows during its Nov. 20-Jan. 2 run.

Skate for Hope Team Seeks More Members

Six ISI members who met at the Adult Championships in Las Vegas have formed a Skate for Hope team to raise funds for breast cancer research, awareness and education.

Skate for Hope is a nonprofit organization founded by a breast cancer survivor who credits figure skating and her skating friends with her positive attitude throughout her treatment process.

"Our team went to Las Vegas in February and worked on our choreography with Vassili Mourzine," said Becky Langford, a member of the Santa Fe Skating Club. "We are skating to 'Unwritten' by Natasha Bedingfield. We plan to meet again in late March or late May. We would like to get more skaters to join us."

The Skate for Hope show will take place on Saturday, June 18 at the Nationwide Arena in downtown Columbus, Ohio.

Olympic, world and national skating champions such as Johnny Weir, Rachael Flatt and Emily Hughes will join the cast to present a spectacular show. Proceeds will benefit the Stefanie Spielman Fund at the James Cancer Center and Solove Research Institute and the Vera Bradley Foundation for Breast Cancer Research.

Skating Director Gets Extreme Office Makeover

Linda Barnard Monney, skating director at Piney Orchard Ice Arena in Odenton, Md., had a surprise waiting for her when she returned to her rink from her vacation and birthday trip.

"When I returned on an early Saturday morning, there was a poster-size birthday card hanging on my office door welcoming me back. I was touched, and commented that someone had painted my old door," she says.

"To my unbelievable surprise, I entered a beautiful, totally new office! The room had been completely emptied and replaced with new carpet and furniture, trophies displayed, plagues mounted on the wall and new curtains on the bright, clean windows."

While she was gone, parents and students from her team performed an "extreme makeover" on her 20-year-old office, which had become a repository for old files, hula hoops, camp crafts, lost and found items, etc.

"I was totally shocked and will never forget the big smiles on everyone's faces as they waited for my reaction. I was speechless and awestruck," she recalls.

She learned that board members from her ISI team had masterminded the project, with paint and carpet funds provided by rink manager Gary Cremen.

"One of the best things about skating is the friendships that develop and the camaraderie created by working together to achieve goals and support one another," Linda notes. "My extreme office makeover is definitely an example of all of that, and I am most privileged to be a part of the Piney Orchard ISI team."

Are You On Top of This Worlds?

by Lori Fairchild

It's time to make plans for the 2011 ISI World Recreational Team Championships. The entry and test deadline is May 1, which gives you much of the summer to work on your programs. And best of all, it gives you plenty of time to get excited about all that Worlds has to offer. Worlds is ISI's premier annual event — a true skating extravaganza for tots to senior adults, individuals and groups both large and small. There's nothing else like it anywhere, so head to Blaine, Minn. July 25-30 for a healthy dose of "Minnesota N'Ice"!

The Super Rink

This year will mark the third time ISI Worlds has been hosted at the Schwan Super Rink, the largest ice arena of its kind in the country. Since 2004 when Worlds was last held here, the Super Rink has nearly doubled in size, to an incredible eight sheets of ice under one roof. The Super Rink is also home to the Hat Trick Café and gallery overlooking four of the sheets, 32 oversized locker rooms, a pro shop and much more. The Super Rink is part of the National Sports Center, one of the largest amateur sports complexes in the world, with a place in the Guinness World Records.

The Shopping

The Minneapolis area boasts the largest shopping and entertainment complex in the United States, the Mall of America. Seven Yankee Stadiums would fit inside this amazing facility! Besides its 520 stores and 50 restaurants, you'll find the Nickelodeon Universe theme park, Moose Mountain Adventure Golf, the world's largest underground aquarium, A.C.E.S. Flight Simulation and much more. There's lots of other shopping in the area, too, including the trendy Block E in downtown Minneapolis and Northtown Mall in Blaine.

Minnesota is known as "The Land of 10,000 Lakes" and Minneapolis means "City of Lakes." You can even canoe nearly two miles through the "Chain of Lakes" near downtown! # Winter Classic Host & Champion St. Peters Rec-Plex Sets Production Team Record

Nearly 800 skaters, along with their coaches and families, spent the weekend before Valentine's

Day in St. Louis at a sweetheart of a competition — the 2011 ISI Winter Classic. The participants traveled from 11 states and Mexico to enjoy the fantastic amenities and friendly Midwestern hospitality at St. Peters Rec-Plex.

The local organizing committee - under the leadership of the Rec-Plex's Laura Lindsey, Phil Boettge and Heather Hyatt — set the stage for an organized and fun competition that spanned 70 hours of events on three rinks. Participants in the first-ever Winter Classic Pool Party made a splash in the Rec-Plex's indoor swimming center.

"We had a great time hosting the Winter Classic," said Boettge. "It was gratifying to see that all the time and preparation paid off in the end when the event ran smoothly. Hosting a national event is a rewarding experience. It would not be possible without the help from skaters, parents, volunteers, staff and other city departments. I think it was a growing experience for everyone involved to work together toward a common goal. Our giant production team was also a valuable team-building experience for our coaching staff."

The home team not only won the Robert Unger Trophy as the overall team champion; the Rec-Plex also set a new ISI record for the largestever production team entry. With 142 skaters "Traveling Through St. Louis," it was clear that the locals really love their home teams — and their city history, too! There was something for everyone in that number, as well as "extras" roles for the non-skaters (in skates), who made great fans in the grandstand at center ice.

The spirit of St. Louis and the winning team is a true representation of ISI sportsmanship and camaraderie. Meet us in St.

Louis again for the 2012 Synchronized Championships!

Next year's Winter Classic goes to Chicago — join us
Feb. 17-19 at Northbrook Sports Center.

Having the Winter Classic at my home rink was so incredible! Not only was it one of the most amazing competitions I've been to, it was just so memorable. I actually came in last in all my solo events, but that was OK because it was so great to come together and see skaters who hadn't competed individually in years put together programs again. The best part of the weekend was definitely our record-breaking production team. Being a part of the whole family was something I'll never forget.

-Marie Feely, 18, FS 4, St. Peters Rec-Plex

I had a blast competing at the Winter Classic in St. Louis. It's always a pleasure to go to ISI national events. What I love is the family of ISI skaters I have made. Young and old, we are all there to have fun, support each other and show our pure love and joy for the sport.

—Angie Miske, Adult Silver, Stephen C. West Ice Arena, Breckenridge, Colo.

I had so much fun at the Winter Classic in St. Louis because I got to see many of my skating friends from other rinks and meet new skaters from all over the country. My favorite part is dressing up in costume and having a good time on the ice!

—Peyton Wiewel, 9, Line Creek Ice Arena, Kansas City, Mo.

We were first time participants in an ISI national event and had a wonderful time skating and volunteering together at Winter Classic. We both enjoy figure skating for physical fitness, fun and camaraderie. We skated in a total of 12 events of various types, including the largest production team to date, "Traveling Through St. Louis." The highlight of our Winter Classic experience was our Family Spotlight event. Inspired by this year's theme, "Best of Broadway," we skated together to the show tune "My Favorite Things" from the 1959 musical The Sound of Music.

—Leslie (Adult FS 4) and Allysen (14, Gamma) Meriwether, St. Peters Rec-Plex, St. Charles, Mo.

The 30 skaters (some of whom had never competed before) and two coaches from the lcettes High School Figure Skating team in Apple Valley, Minn. had a fantastic time at the 2011 Winter Classic. There were many highlights from the weekend, all punctuated by our never-ending team cheers echoing throughout the rinks (if you were there, you heard them!). Our favorite moments included: laughing with our teammates as they kicked balloons or missed the cones with their hockey "pucks" in our Team Surprise events; cheering on our four Team Compulsories early Sunday morning, after a 6:30 a.m. practice; enjoying the 60-plus degree weather; skating as one in the first-place large production team; winning the second overall team points trophy; and finally, witnessing the Rec-Plex Skating School smash an ISI record for the largest production team, with an amazing performance of "Traveling Through St. Louis." It was truly a great weekend that we will always remember! Thank you ISI and St. Peters Rec-Plex! —Icettes, Apple Valley Sports Arena, Minnesota

We flew from Aliso Viejo Ice Palace in California to the Winter Classic. We had a super time! We both have lots of family in St. Louis, and they all came to see us compete in the Jump & Spin together. We met up with an ISI coach in St. Louis, Debi Kozak, and she coached us both in several events. It was cool to be featured in the front of the program book as one of the teams that traveled the greatest distance to this ISI competition. We've especially enjoyed showing off our medals, since they feature a special design with the St. Louis Arch, and you could only get one by competing in a Winter Classic event. We hope to team up again in Chicago for the 2012 Winter Classic! —Elizabeth Anne Johnson and Megan Winkelmann, Aliso Viejo Ice Palace, California

Kristi Yamaguchi Shares Skating Dreams Through New Children's Book by Lori Fairchild

"This motto has served as my personal inspiration for many years," Kristi says. "It is my constant reminder to dream big, never lose sight of my goals and strive to become a better person. This book represents my desire to share that with children everywhere."

Geared to children ages 4 to 8, Dream Big, Little Pig! follows Poppy the pig's quest for fulfillment as she explores her dreams of stardom, ranging from ballet to singing to modeling. Her loving family supports her in each of her endeavors, but it isn't until she discovers the magic of ice skating that she finally finds her dreams coming true.

But even ice skating doesn't come naturally to Poppy. She isn't particularly graceful, and she stumbles and falls, over and over. It is her persistence and her love of the ice that lead to her eventual success.

Kristi says that, like Poppy, she had to work hard to learn to skate. "I would not say I was a natural, at all," she recalls. "I was small for my age, and very shy and timid. My mom still says that the other kids seemed to progress faster than I did, but I loved to be out there skating."

Born with club feet, Kristi had worn plaster casts on her legs as a baby, then corrective shoes connected by a brace as a toddler. "When I discovered skating around age 6, my mom asked the pediatrician about it, and he thought it was a great idea and that it would only help me."

KRISTI YAMAGUCHI

ILLUSTRATED BY TIM BOWER

Kristi started skating in the ISI program and tested through ISI Freestyle 5 before choosing the competitive path that eventually took her to the Olympic gold.

"Competitive skating isn't for everyone," she notes. "It's nice to have both options available, because skating is an activity that you can enjoy at any age and level. A recreational program is a great way to start in any sport, without so much pressure."

Now the parents of two young daughters — Keara, 7, and Emma, 5 — Kristi and her husband, hockey star Bret Hedican, enjoy watching their girls discover the joy of skating in the ISI program. "They both just passed Alpha and are going into Beta," Kristi says. "It's great for them to have the guidance and instruction to help them improve and learn a certain amount of technique, which adds to the joy of skating. But I don't know if I see them as competitive skaters; right now they're just having fun."

Kristi encourages skaters to keep their ultimate dream in mind, but to realize that reaching it is a series of smaller goals. "Creating small milestones for yourself to achieve helps you feel like you're accomplishing something and helps you keep a positive attitude. In skating, there's always something new to learn. It's almost impossible to reach perfection, so if you're always striving to improve and learn, you always feel there's a challenge in front of you.

"No matter who you are and no matter how much talent you have, you are going to face challenges," she adds. "When things come too easily, you don't learn to work for them."

Kristi's Always Dream Foundation, founded in 1996, has been an active fundraiser and supporter of children's charities in the San Francisco Bay Area and is now working in the field of early literacy, introducing young children to books and reading. Her own daughters played important roles in Dream Big, Little Pig!, with Keara choosing the name of the title character, and Emma lending her own name to Poppy's best friend.

There may be more adventures for Poppy in the future, Kristi says. "I wanted Poppy to be a positive and inspiring character, and to show that sometimes you have to try a few different things before you find the right path for you. It's fun to see Poppy become a force of her own, so I'd like to see her try other things, too — to make her mark in skating, but maybe through skating she will experience other new things." AS

Sept. 30 - Oct. 2 Tampa Bay Skating Academy Oldsmar, Florida

Entry & Test Deadline: Aug. 15

TBSA-Oldsmar, Florida's first twin ice rink, knows the score when it comes to hosting big events. ISI adult skaters will love both the venue and the hot-spot location. Three of the country's top 10 beaches are just minutes away, featuring white "sugar" sand, waterside cafes and brilliant sunsets. If golf is your thing, you won't be disappointed! Tampa Bay was recently named "Top Arts Destination," and offers eclectic indoor and open-air shopping and dining in unique areas like the historic neighborhoods of Ybor City and Hyde Park. Don't miss this last chance of the year for a combination skating and beach getaway!

SUNFUN

Yes, that's right — summer will be here before you know it! What are your plans? Will you go to the beach? Are you planning a family vacation (to Minnesota, of course, for the ISI World Team Championships event)? Or will you stay home and enjoy the "coolest place in town" — your local ice rink?

Whatever you do, at least keep skating in your brain — and in your body, too! If you are not able to skate while you are on vacation, try practicing your jumps on the ground. It can be a great way to train your brain and body to work together, without the glide on

Do you like to read? Then head over to your local library and check out some skating books. You can read about skating history or famous skater biographies, and there are some great skating theory books, too.

After your body and brain are primed, then you can focus your mind to think of some new programs for the coming skating season. What new music would you like to skate to?

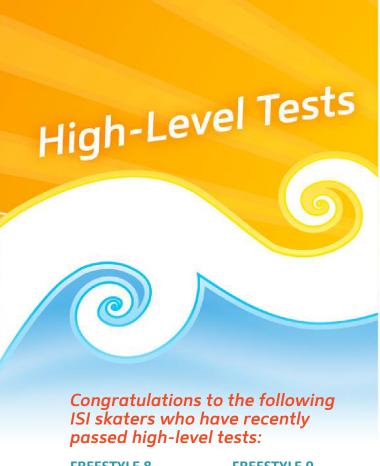

Would that music fit best for a Freestyle program, or maybe Artistic or even a Footwork event? What color should your next costume be? Can you use a current costume and change it by adding a vest, hat or other accessory? Do you have an idea for a new Spotlight program (see Focus On article below)?

If you are on the ice, summer is a great time to set your skating goals and expand your boundaries. It's not endless hours of lessons that will help you improve your skating skill, it's the many hours you spend practicing to perfect your maneuvers.

Practice doesn't have to be boring. Skate with your friend and help each other improve a jump or spin. After your warm-up, make up an interpretive program routine to the public session music. Let your friend "judge" your performance. The greater the variety of music you practice with, the wider range of skating you can do when you hear that competition interpretive music selection.

Summer is on its way, so set some goals, have a plan — and have fun!

SPOTLIGHT

Lights, Camera, Action!

Since all ISI recreational competitions are designed for fun, a great place to begin is with Spotlight events.

Who can do Spotlight events: Spotlight events can be done by all ages and all levels. The event groups are usually divided into Character, Dramatic, Light Entertainment and Theme categories. The Theme category changes every calendar year for our ISI national events. You can choose to do 1-2-3 or all 4 of the Spotlight event categories. You must have a different program for each Spotlight event you enter.

Types of Spotlight events: There are several types of Spotlight events including: Solo Spotlight (your level is determined by your Pre-Alpha through FS10 test level); Couples Spotlight (which you can do with your friend); and even Family Spotlight (for two or more skaters in the same family).

Tips for a "winning" program: The main emphasis for all Spotlight programs is on your acting and performance ability — not skating ability. You don't have to be a great skater to win first place in a Spotlight event since there is no judging score for technical skating maneuvers.

Your costume, prop and choreography must fit the overall theme of your program. The most important thing is to actually become your character on ice. If you are Mickey or Minnie Mouse, then be the best skating Mickey or Minnie. If you're a cowboy, a basketball player or a cheerleader, then get creative when you transform those characters to the ice. It's always great fun to take off-ice activities — such as ballet, gymnastics or other sports — and try to transform them into an entertaining ice skating routine.

The best thing: The best thing about Spotlight programs is that you can use the same program for more than one test level. You don't need to get a new program every time your test level changes, so it's great for Mom and Dad if you can reuse the costume and prop for several competitions throughout the year. Of course, with your coach's help and advice, you can always change the choreography in your routine between competitions, as long as you follow the maneuver limitations listed below.

Solo & Couples Spotlight

LEVEL	DURATION	MANEUVER LIMITATIONS
Pre-Alpha - Delta	1.0 min.	Freestyle 1 and below
Freestyle 1-3 / Bronze	1.5 min.	Freestyle 4 and below
Freestyle 4-5 / Silver	1.5 min.	Freestyle 6 and below
Freestyle 6-10 / Gold / Platinum	2.0 min.	Any maneuvers
Family Spotlight	1.5 min.	Any maneuvers

Costume and prop limitations: Props are limited to hand-carry items that can be lifted, pushed or carried onto and off of the ice in one trip within 30 seconds. Skaters can have assistance at the ice door to get props on and off the ice. Prop size should be compatible with the skaters' height and weight.

Judging criteria: Costume and prop, originality, music and choreography, duration and judge appeal (by all three judges). EIS

Franklin Park Takes First at 6th Annual Artistic Challenge

The spotlight was on at the Northbrook Sports Center for the 2010 ISI Artistic Challenge in December. The winter wonderland created by the weekend's snowstorm added to the competition festivities as skaters from near and far participated in the daylong event on two rinks.

Franklin Park Ice Arena was the overall team champion, followed by the University of Illinois and Northbrook Sports Center.

The Skaters' Marketplace vendors were thrilled with the enthusiastic shoppers, who enjoyed the convenience of shopping for skater apparel, equipment and holiday gifts between competition events.

The spacious, well-equipped and centrally located Northbrook Sports Center is a favorite destination for ISI national events. In fact, the facility will host the 2012 Winter Classic, too.

The 2011 Artistic Challenge, set for Dec. 2-4, returns to Pickwick Ice Skating Center in Burbank, Calif., which was the site of the largest Artistic event to date. Hope to see you there!

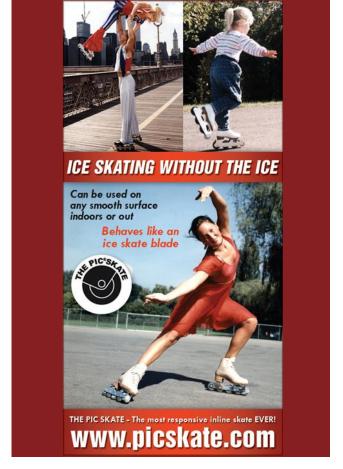

Franklin Park Fusion members represent a portion of Franklin Park Ice Arena's Artistic Challenge team, which took top honors at the 2010 competition in Northbrook, III. Franklin Park was also the 2007 ISI Worlds team champion.

ALEX NEEDS YOUR HELP

Alex has a big game today and can't seem to find his hockey stick. Can you help him find it so he makes it to his game in time?

The Walley is a jump similar to the Loop Jump in Freestyle 4, except that it takes off on a backward inside edge and rotates one full revolution in the air before landing on a backward outside edge. On the Freestyle 7 test, a skater must perform two Walley jumps in a row – challenging because of that takeoff edge, but beautiful when done with a lot of speed and flow.

How many Walleys can you find in the puzzle below? Look in every direction until you've found 15 of them!
